No One is Too Far Away

1 Kings 17:17-24

Distance strains relationships. Physical distance prevents people from connecting. Think of a long-distance dating relationship. Mental distance occurs when you think of other things when people talk to you. We experience emotional distance when people fail to understand how we feel. If distance strains our interpersonal relationships, then it also strains our relationship with God. What does God do when people find themselves far away from him?

1. God allows people to experience the strain of distance (17:17-18)

2. God appoints his people to intercede for the distant (17:19-21)

3. God overcomes the distance with resurrection (17:22-24)
